

Become a Course Rep Promotional Toolkit for QUB Schools

Thank you for using this promotional toolkit.

It has been designed to make it as easy as possible for you to support the promotion of the Course Rep volunteering opportunities. Please feel free to amend the tone of the messaging to suit your own communication channels.

Content that we are supplying includes:

- Graphics - to download click here
- Example email text – below
- Example social media posts - below

These Course Rep opportunities are open to undergraduate students. The full list of available roles can be found here.

The deadline for students to volunteer for the role is 5pm, Friday 29 May.

Template Email

Subject Line: Course Rep Roles Now Open

[Email header graphic]

Undergrads - we're looking for Course Reps for the next academic year!

We really value the student voice and encourage you to consider volunteering for this role.

As a Course Rep, you'll represent the students on your course and work with the staff in our School to improve the experience for students now and in the future.

By volunteering just a few hours per week, it's a brilliant way to:

- Gain new, transferable skills such as leadership, communication, and teamwork
- Be eligible for Queen's Future Ready Award (a great CV booster!)
- Meet new and exciting people on your course and across our School
- Get more involved in our School and the Students' Union

Find out if there's a role available on your course and put yourself forward by 5pm, Fri 29 May at: tinyurl.com/BecomeACourseRep

Kind regards, [Name of School]

Example Social Media Posts

Facebook:

[Facebook Graphic]

Are you an undergrad at Queen's University Belfast? If so, why not consider volunteering a few hours per week and become a Course Rep?

It's a great way to get more involved in your School and Students' Union, and no previous experience is required as you'll receive all the training and support you need.

You'll make a real difference, develop your skills and meet lots of people. Plus, you'll be eligible for Queen's Future Ready Award!

Find out if there's a role available for your course and volunteer by 5pm, Fri 29 May at tinyurl.com/BecomeACourseRep

Instagram Grid:

[Instagram Grid Graphic]

Are you an undergrad at Queen's University Belfast? If so, why not consider volunteering a few hours per week and become a Course Rep?

It's a great way to get more involved in your School and Students' Union, and no previous experience is required as you'll receive all the training and support you need.

You'll make a real difference, develop your skills and meet lots of people. Plus, you'll be eligible for Queen's Future Ready Award!

Head to @queensstudentsunion link in bio to find out if there's a role available for your course and volunteer by 5pm, Fri 29 May.

#queensuniversity #studentreps #studentrepresentation #studentvolunteers #studentvolunteering #queensstudentsunion

Instagram Story:

If using the graphic for Instagram story, please include a 'sticker' to link to the following page: tinyurl.com/BecomeACourseRep

LinkedIn:

Are you currently studying an undergraduate degree at Queen's University Belfast? If so, why not consider volunteering a few hours per week and become a Course Rep?

It's a great way to get more involved in your School and Students' Union, and no previous experience is required as you'll receive all the training and support you need.

By becoming a Course Rep, you will:

- Gain new, transferable skills such as leadership, communication, and teamwork
- Be eligible for Queen's Future-Ready Award (a great CV booster!)

- Meet new and exciting people on your course and across our School
- Get more involved in our School and the Students' Union

Find out if there's a role available for your course and volunteer by 5pm, Fri 29 May at tinyurl.com/BecomeACourseRep